Pallas Partners Receives Award

March 13, 2008 – Pallas Partners Inc., is pleased to announce it was recognized as a “High Impact” company in Kentucky during the High Impact Recognition Breakfast on March 12th at the Brown & Williamson Club, Papa John’s Cardinal Stadium. The High Impact Program, a public/private partnership is between Louisville Metro Government and the Greater Louisville Inc. – The Metro Chamber of Commerce.

Initiated by Mayor Jerry Abramson in 2003, the High Impact Program identifies and serves fast-growth companies headquartered in the Metro Louisville region.

Pallas Partners Managing Director and CEO, Matthew Saltzman, stated, “We are honored to receive this award and to be recognized for our business efforts and accomplishments. To be selected as a Strategic Enabler Company demonstrates the clarity of our mission to provide vital services that enable other companies to grow at an accelerated rate. We have been working very hard to assemble a special set of skills and resources unavailable anywhere else in the region. It is very gratifying to be recognized for our unique infrastructure that brings insights, innovation and results to clients. Our client assignments have been increasing rapidly as companies seeking to grow their businesses to the next level take advantage of our services. This award together with the large number of assignments and inquiries we are receiving validates the absolute demand for an entity with the capabilities of Pallas Partners in this region.”
